

Quick Facts

The Company: Tulsa Paver Designs LLC is dedicated solely to the installation of pavers and segmental retaining walls. We believe this specialization makes us the best at what we do.

Our Process: We only work on one project at a time – in this way we can dedicate ourselves to ensuring that the vision of the project is properly executed. We make every effort to keep good communications with our point of contact so that everyone knows exactly what is expected. In addition, our quotation for services are precisely priced to meet the requirements of the plan. Clients can be assured that add-on charges are never the norm and in fact it has been our experience that they are only necessary for new work separate from the scope of the original plan.

Frank Malkemus, Owner: Frank brings a unique professionalism to the business. With over 20 years in construction, over 15 in landscaping and over 6 in pavers and hardscape installations, Frank has the background and experience to successfully complete any and all installation projects. Projects completed are both complex and straightforward, large and small. They have been for city and state governments, developers and residential and commercial properties.

Add to that the fact that Frank brings experience gained on the West Coast where the paver business is mature and standards and expectations are high, you can be assured of receiving only the highest quality work.

Clients appreciate Frank's professionalism, directness, honesty and dedication to quality. They also appreciate his crew who are also prompt, tidy, respectful and professional.

Certifications: Frank is a certified paver installer according to the standards set by the Interlocking Concrete Paver Institute (ICPI). Frank is also certified by the National Concrete Masonry Association for the installation of segmental retaining walls.
